EDUCATION.

In Colonies containing a large number of schools it will be sufficient, if no detailed Return of them already exists, to state full particulars of those only which are Government institutions, giving the total statistics of the others.

The particulars for each school should show whether it is Denominational, and whether fees are charged.

The number of scholars should be given, both from the total number on the roll and from the average during the year.

The totals should indicate the aggregate number of children receiving instruction in the Colony.

Some particulars of the subjects taught in the Higher Schools should be given under the head of Remarks.

The Board receives an annual grant from the Legislature of £6,000, out of which school houses, teachers' residences, etc., have to be provided and kept in repair, as well as the payment of teachers' salaries and general expenses. The cost is greatly enhanced by the breaking up of the population into many small settlements long distances apart on the various islands, themselves separated for many miles. The sum set opposite each school only covers the salaries of teachers and assistants, but taking the total cost of education to the Colony into consideration the average cost for each child on the roll is 15s. 8d., and for each child in average attendance 25s. 6d., but the temporary increase of salaries puts the costs at 17s. 6d. and 28s. 7d. respectively. This calculation includes grant-in-aid schools.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS.

School Fees.	Government Contributions.	Voluntary Contributions.
	£ 30 8 4			These schools received the grants specified in aid of the teachers' incomes, supplies of books and materials, and in a few cases assistance in building or fitting up and furnishing school rooms, on condition that they should be unsectarian and that the teacher should pass an easy examination and that the results produced should be fairly satisfactory. School fees are supposed to be the teachers' chief income, but very few are paid in cash. Field produce and labour are the principal items, and no returns of these, nor of the occasional cash payments, are ever made to the Education Department. The total amount is, however, in each case so small that but for the grants the schools would be closed. The grant to the school at Water Cay, Grand Bahama, was renewed in July.
